Dust, Earth, Dirt, Soil, and Creation
Dust: An Important Ancient Motif

- “Rising from the dust” in the Book of Mormon and the Bible is an important theme rich in meaning.
- Dust is the beginning of Creation and the end of mortality.
- Modern biblical scholarship shows rising from the dust relates to covenant keeping, resurrection, enthronement, & life.
- Understanding the complex of dust-related themes in the Book of Mormon reveals added meaning and helps solve some mysteries in the text.
Dust/Earth Also Important in China

The Five Elements (Wu Xing) of China

- Wood
- Earth
- Metal
- Fire
- Water

EARTH
- Color: Yellow (color of the emperor)
- Animal: Human
- Direction: Center
- Day of week: Saturday

The dust of China is often yellow, as in the Yellow River & Yellow Sea, colored by the yellow silt.
A Study Sparked by Noel Reynolds

- In “The Brass Plates Version of Genesis,” Reynolds finds impressive links between the Book of Moses and the Book of Mormon, suggestive of Book of Mormon dependency (not the other way around)
- Motivated by Reynolds’ work, several other possible links between the Book of Moses and the Book of Mormon were explored.
- Curiosity about the striking imagery of “chains of darkness” in Moses 7 led to some finds shared here.

Exploration: Do More Parallels Exist?

- The Strength of Moses?
  - Nephi’s puzzling comment (1 Nephi 4:2): “Therefore let us go up; let us be strong like unto Moses”
  - The OT credits many with strength, but not Moses
  - A surprise in Moses 1:25: “Blessed art thou, Moses, for I, the Almighty, have chosen thee, and thou shalt be made stronger than many waters.”

See “Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat,” arisedust8
Fifteen More Parallels Proposed

- Reynolds used computer searching for exact phrases.
- By considering concepts rather than specific words, other possibilities arise.
- After the strength of Moses, the next parallel explored was “chains” + darkness/hell/Satan in Moses 7:26, 57.
  - “he beheld Satan; and he had a great chain in his hand, and it veiled the whole face of the earth with darkness” (26)
  - “the remainder were reserved in chains of darkness until the judgment of the great day” (57)
  - Several parallels were uncovered, beginning with 2 Ne. 1:23
- Then several more were found.
Chains: Links Between Our Two Texts

- Intrigued by “chains of darkness” in the Book of Moses, I searched for that phrase.
- Not found in the Book of Mormon.
- But 2 Nephi 1:23 links “obscurity” with chains (Webster, 1828: "Darkness; want of light" is 1st definition).
- There may be a Hebrew wordplay there as well: perhaps Nephi used the root ʿaphar (עפר) or ʾepher (אפר) for “dust” and ʾophel (אפל) for “obscurity.”

ʿaphar vs. ʿophel: Lehi’s wordplay?

- In Isaiah 29:4, speech whispers from the “dust”: from ʿaphar (副教授) which occurs 15 times in Isaiah, in KJV always translated as “dust” except in Isaiah 2:19 (“earth”).

- Also ʾephēr ( hoşן) can mean “loose soil crumbling into dust.” In KJV, all 22 occurrences are “ashes,” but it is “dust” twice in the NIV.

- The KJV word “obscurity” in Isaiah 29:18 is tied to ʿophel, which can be transliterated as ʿophel:
  - ʿophel, o'fel (from H651, ʿâphēl [עַפֶּה]); meaning "dusk:—darkness, obscurity, privily, while ʿâphēl is "from an unused root meaning to set as the sun; dusky—very dark." HALOT, 79.
1. Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

- Used by Lehi, Nephi, Jacob, Christ, and Moroni
- The theme of gaining promised covenant blessings in the promised land fits Lehi’s “prosper in the land” teachings (2 Nephi 1:20) and the goals of his farewell speech.
In 2 Nephi 1, Lehi Employs Isaiah 52

13 O that ye would awake, awake ... and shake off the awful chains ...

14 Awake! and arise from the dust.... [A] few more days and I go all the way of the earth.

21 And now that my soul might have joy in you, and that my heart might leave this world with gladness because of you, that I might not be brought down with grief and sorrow to the grave, arise from the dust, my sons, and be men, ... that ye may not come down into captivity;

22 That ye may not be cursed with a sore cursing....

23 Awake, my sons; put on the armor of righteousness. Shake off the chains with which ye are bound, and come forth out of obscurity, and arise from the dust.
Isaiah 52:1-2, for Review

1. Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

Dust and Enthronement

- Brueggemann explains that “the motifs of covenant-renewal, enthronement, and resurrection cannot be kept in isolation from each other.”

- Rising from the dust is related to enthronement and empowerment, with political and theological aspects.
Brueggemann’s Investigation

- 1 Kings 16:2: the Lord tells Baasha “I exalted you out of the dust and made you leader over my people Israel.” But then the antithesis: “Behold I will utterly sweep away Baasha and his house,” referring to Baasha losing his status and becoming dust again.

- Tied to the Creation: God formed man out of the dust, Gen. 2:7; we are dust and will return to it (Gen. 3:19).

- After being formed from the dust, Adam and Eve are put in charge of the Garden — given authority and responsibility — an aspect of “rising from the dust.”
“Behind the creation formula lies a royal formula of enthronement. To be taken ‘from the dust’ means to be elevated from obscurity to royal office and to return to dust means to be deprived of that office and returned to obscurity.”

“[T]o be taken from the dust means to be accepted as a covenant-partner and treated graciously; to return to the dust means to lose that covenant relation.”

“To die and be raised is to be out of covenant and then back in covenant. So also to be ‘from dust’ is to enter into a covenant and to return ‘to dust’ is to have the covenant voided.”

- “Dying and rising” describe the voiding and renewing of covenants.
- Calls to “turn” or “repent” involve changing loyalties or entering into a new covenant.
- New Testament themes of resurrection are built on Israel’s ancient enthronement rituals, and when Christ was “raised up” from the dead “on the third day,” the concept draws upon a variety of related Old Testament passages (e.g., Hosea 6:2’s reference to revival after 3 days of death).

Wijngaards’ paper can be accessed at tinyurl.com/arisedust10.
Lehi’s Dust & Creation Motifs (2 Ne. 1)

- Awake, arise, dust, cursing, light and dark, creation (opposite is destruction), agency (vs. captivity).
- V. 13: “awake from a deep sleep” (see Gen. 2:21).
- V. 23: come “out of obscurity” like coming out of the void in Genesis 1, coming out of darkness.
- Cut off from God’s presence (v. 20).
- “Cursed with a sore cursing” (v. 22).
- Clothed with skins by God vs. putting on armor of righteousness (v. 23).
Let’s Talk Politics (and Dust)

- David Bokovoy, in light of Walter Brueggemann’s work, saw the political implications of the dust theme in Nephi and Jacob’s writings.
- Lehi’s charge to rise from the dust (and keep the covenant) is accepted by Nephi:
  - 2 Nephi 4:28: “Awake, my soul! No longer droop in sin. Rejoice, O my heart, and give place no more for the enemy of my soul.”
  - Nephi also prays that he “may shake at the appearance of sin,” as in shaking off chains/bands per Lehi and Isaiah.
- This strengthens the case for Nephi as legitimate successor of Lehi, both as the political and spiritual leader.
- Two chapters later, Jacob, at Nephi’s request, quotes Isaiah 52:1-2. In context, Bokovoy says this helps cement Nephi’s legitimacy as ruler.
- He who rises from the dust is given authority and power.
- Laman and Lemuel could reign if they would rise from the dust and be righteous men: 2 Nephi 1:28–29. But that honor goes to Nephi.

Bokovoy: https://tinyurl.com/arisedust5
Why is Isaiah 49:22-23 Quoted Twice?

Two occurrences: 1 Nephi 21:22–23 and 2 Nephi 6:6–7:

22 Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people; and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers; they shall bow down to thee with their face towards the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord; for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

Proposal: Used in a large inclusio to highlight Lehi’s dust-related speech as a key passage in Nephite religion.

Inclusio is an ancient poetical device in which a common phrase or related material brackets a portion of text. Chiasmus can be considered “recursive inclusio.”
From Dust to Dust: Nephi’s Dusty Inclusio

A1. Isaiah on Dust Removal and (Ironic) Enthronement
End: 1 Nephi 21:22–26 (Is. 49:22–26): Kings and queens to lick the dust off the feet of the covenant people.

B. 1 Nephi 22 and 2 Nephi 1–6, including Lehi’s Farewell and Nephi’s Psalm. Themes of dust, deliverance from captivity, and redemption.

A2. Isaiah on Dust Removal and (Ironic) Enthronement
Start: 2 Nephi 6:6, quoting Is. 49:22–23 (kings licking dust from the feet)
End: 2 Nephi 8:24–25, quoting Is. 52:1–2 ("Awake, awake . . . Shake thyself from the dust, arise.")
Explanatory Power

- Why would Nephi include the same Isaiah passage a second time in his concise record?
- Making it part of an inclusio highlights and expands upon its meaning, and signals the importance of related material inside.
- Arising (or being washed) from the dust is introduced as a vital and rich motif.
Dust: Begins and Ends 2 Nephi

- 2 Nephi 1, rich in dust themes
- Concluding words in 2 Nephi 33:13: “I speak unto you as the voice of one crying from the dust: Farewell until that great day shall come.”
The Dust Complex

- Dust: a symbol of death, decay, chaos, and the raw materials of God’s Creation
- Rising from the dust = keeping the covenant, resurrection, receiving power and authority, enthronement, salvation
- Dust, like chains of captivity, must be shaken off
- Dust can be washed or licked off
Related Concepts

- Shaking: shake off dust, chains, bands
- Repenting, cleansing
- Singing, rejoicing (for those who arise)
- Rising (quwm in Is. 52): establish, stand, ascend
- Sitting (in authority, on a throne)
- Putting on robes of authority (enthronement)
- Encircling (chains, bands vs. robes/arms of the Lord)
- Resurrection
- Exaltation, enthronement
Other Illustrations of Dust Themes in Isaiah

- Isaiah 26:19: Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

- Isaiah 61:3: To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes [dust], the oil of joy [anointing] for mourning, the garment of praise [royal robes] for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

- Isaiah 29:4: ...thy speech shall be low out of the dust,...as one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

Dust Removal
Dust Removal

- Washing of feet: like rising from the dust, a washing to remove dust, a symbol of cleansing and receiving authority or honor.
- Licking the dust off the feet in Isaiah 49:23.
- Related to Enoch, who became a seer by anointing eyes with clay and washing them (Moses 6:35–6).
- The washing off of dust/clay (sin, chaos) relates to divine gifts.
- Is dust removal an aspect of baptism as one rises from the waters of chaos and death?
Dust and King Benjamin’s Speech

In Mosiah 2:25–26, Mosiah links dust to humility:

- Ye cannot say that ye are even as much as the dust of the earth; yet ye were created of the dust of the earth...

- And I, even I, whom ye call your king, am no better than ye yourselves are; for I am also of the dust ... and am about to yield up this mortal frame to its mother earth.
Following his speech, the people are ready to make a covenant in Mosiah 4:1–2

[H]e cast his eyes round about on the multitude, and behold they had fallen to the earth, for the fear of the Lord had come upon them.

And they had viewed themselves in their own carnal state, even less than the dust of the earth. And they all cried aloud with one voice, saying: O have mercy, and apply the atoning blood of Christ that we may receive forgiveness of our sins....

Is this a ritualized response to spiritual events in Nephite culture, influenced by dust motifs?
Falling to the Earth

- Possible symbolic meanings:
  - Physical death
  - Spiritual death (falling away from God)
  - Rebellion, sin, breaking the covenant
  - Losing power, authority, life
  - Destruction

- Opposites: Rising, standing, resurrection, revival, receiving power, enthronement, covenant making and covenant keeping
Abinadi’s Encounter with Noah’s Priests

- Of all the tricky questions they could toss at Abinadi, why do they ask him to explain “how beautiful upon the mountains are the feet” from Isaiah 52:7-10?

  - 20 And it came to pass that one of them said unto him: What meaneth the words which are written, and which have been taught by our fathers, saying:

  - 21 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings; that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good; that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth;

  - 22 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing; for they shall see eye to eye when the Lord shall bring again Zion;

  - 23 Break forth into joy; sing together ye waste places of Jerusalem; for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem;

  - 24 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God?

- Proposal: If Isaiah 52 were a foundational part of Nephite religion, as suggested by Nephi’s dusty inclusio, the “feel good” part of Is. 52 might seem like an effective rebuttal to Abinadi’s gloom and doom.
Abinadi’s Response

- At first glance, Abinadi seems to give an odd, rambling answer that doesn’t address the puzzling question.
- But if Is. 52 was a pivotal passage in Nephite religion, then his answer lays a foundation to overthrow the priests’ misapplication.
  - Understanding the law and its purpose
  - Reconciliation through the Messiah
  - Repentance and following God
  - Only then can we begin rejoicing.
- Those whose feet will become beautiful on Mount Zion heed Isaiah 52:1–2 through shaking off the dust, repenting, arising, receiving the grace of the Messiah and putting on the beautiful garments of the Lord. Then shall those feet be firmly established, with cause to rejoice and sing praises to their Redeemer.
Falling to the earth: a sign of covenant breaking and death. Contrast: arising and regaining life, use of limbs, and entering into the covenant.

Dust themes in a “sloppy” portion:

- 7 earth did tremble beneath our feet ... fell to the earth ... fear of the Lord
- 8 ...the voice said unto me, Arise. And I arose and stood up
- 9 ...destroyed ... seek no more to destroy the church of God
- 10 ... I fell to the earth ... three days and three nights ...
- 11 ...destroyed...destroy no more ... fear ... destroyed ... fell to the earth and did hear no more

Falling to the earth mentioned three times.

Three days (in grave) in Hos. 6:2 vital in Wijngaard’s study.
22 Yea, methought I saw, even as our father Lehi saw, God sitting upon his throne, surrounded with numberless concourses of angels, in the attitude of singing and praising their God; yea, and my soul did long to be there.

23 But behold, my limbs did receive their strength again, and I stood upon my feet, and did manifest unto the people that I had been born of God.

24 Yea, and from that time even until now, I have labored without ceasing, that I might bring souls unto repentance; that I might bring them to taste of the exceeding joy of which I did taste; that they might also be born of God, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

25 Yea, and now behold, O my son, the Lord doth give me exceedingly great joy in the fruit of my labors;

26 For because of the word which he has imparted unto me, behold, many have been born of God, and have tasted as I have tasted, and have seen eye to eye as I have seen; therefore they do know of these things of which I have spoken, as I do know; and the knowledge which I have is of God.

Being born of God is mentioned three times. Other contrasts include standing, limbs regaining strength, tasted+seen+spoken (signs of life), singing, viewing a throne, joy, etc.
Implications for Alma 36

- The “loose sections” in vv. 5–15, 23–26 have much more parallelism than just 4 words identified by Welch.
- Multiple strands employing dust-related themes appear to be interwoven.
- Alma’s contrast between falling to the earth and being born again and freed from the chains of death suggests awareness and deliberate use of dust-related concepts from Nephi, Isaiah, etc.
- There may be much more structure and craftsmanship than we realized in passages often said to be too weak to be real chiasmus.

Christ’s Use of Dust Themes (3 Ne. 20)

- Context: Following baptism and receipt of the Holy Ghost in a miraculous scene in ch. 19, Christ continues the covenantal theme as he breaks and blesses bread, gives wine, all miraculously provided, filling them (vv. 3-10).
- But first, he commands them to arise. “And they arose up and stood” (v 2).
- He speaks of fulfilling ancient covenants with Israel, their gathering and their lands of inheritance (10-15)
- “I will establish my people” (21), “this people will I establish in this land” (22), “prophet shall ... God raise up (23). (All likely using Hebrew quwm.)
- “The Father having raised me up unto you first,” to turn sinners away from iniquities (renewing covenant, 26)
- “Break forth into joy -- Sing together” (34)
- “Awake, awake again, and put on thy strength” (36)
- “Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit down” (37)
- “How beautiful ... are the feet ...” (40)
- Restoration, gathering, fulfilling covenant (vv. 41-46)
And awake, and arise from the dust, O Jerusalem; yea, and put on thy beautiful garments, O daughter of Zion; and strengthen thy stakes and enlarge thy borders forever, that thou mayest no more be confounded, that the covenants of the Eternal Father which he hath made unto thee, O house of Israel, may be fulfilled.

Yea, come unto Christ, and be perfected in him, and deny yourselves of all ungodliness; and if ye shall deny yourselves of all ungodliness and love God with all your might, mind and strength, then is his grace sufficient for you, that by his grace ye may be perfect in Christ.

Then are ye sanctified in Christ by the grace of God, through the shedding of the blood of Christ, which is in the covenant of the Father unto the remission of your sins, that ye become holy, without spot.

And now I bid unto all, farewell. I soon go to rest in the paradise of God, until my spirit and body shall again reunite, and I am brought forth triumphant through the air, to meet you before the pleasing [pleading] bar of the great Jehovah, the Eternal Judge of both quick and dead. Amen.

Themes: Covenant keeping and fulfilling, sanctification, gathering, cleansing, resurrection, judgment, and enthronement.

Conclusions

- A complex of dust themes in the Book of Mormon are appropriately and meaningfully applied.
- Modern scholarship on this ancient theme gives us tools to better understand rich and subtle meanings.
  - Messages from Nephi and Lehi, and Nephi’s rightful reign
  - Further relationships to the Book of Moses & brass plates
  - Alma 36 (and other chiastic passages with chains)
  - Abinadi vs. Noah’s priests
  - King Benjamin’s speech and Nephite swooning
  - Covenantal objectives of Christ and Moroni
- Isaiah 52 may have been pivotal in Nephite religion.
- Those themes are used artfully with beautiful parallelism (inclusio, chiasmus), possible wordplays, and appropriate covenant-based implications.
- The Book of Mormon is an ancient voice from the dust.
- Its goal is to help us rise from the dust and follow the Savior.
